THE HORRORS OF BOKHARA

Terrible Deeds That Once Made Place Byword Are Now Prohibited.

The terrible deeds that once made Bokhara a byword are now prohibited by the Russian government. Prisoners are not permitted, for instance, to be dragged through the streets by galloping horses. Nor are they thrown from the top of the high tower called the Minar Katun. This was the usual punishment meted out to evil-doers in the old days. Watched by thousands of spectators, the poor wretches were flung from that giddy height on to the flagstones beneath.

Bokhara has many chambers of horrors, unwholesome for western eyes to see, and the description of which would certainly be unfit for publication. Perhaps the most horrible of these is a pit where prisoners were tortured by vermin, which were so numerous and ravenous that in the absence of human prey they were fed on chunks of raw meat.—
From Wide World Magazine.

HIS IDEA.

His Father (after punishing him) —It hurt me more to whip you than it did you.

Tommy—Then all I've got to say is that you can stand an awful lot of punishment without hollering.

ONLY ONE OF ITS KIND.

"The children should know and remember what their fathers have accomplished," said a native to a Frenchman as they stood before a monument which had just been erected in the East park, at Tokyo.
The monument is probably the only one of its kind. It is one of the monster siege guns captured by the Japanese from the Russians in the war with that country, and it has been erected complete, with every detail restored. Writing about the memorial, the visitor says: "It made a deep impression on me, this grim instrument of war in the midst of a peaceful scene; and if the smiling young people who stood about it saw as I did, they read in the lines of tube and mechanism the American injunction: 'Keep your powder dry.'"

BATTLE OF AGINCOURT.

Agincourt, from which Henry V. made his triumphal entry into London, is our English way of spelling Azincourt, just as Blenheim is a similar corruption of Blindheim. In about 2½ hours Henry's little army slew 10,000 Frenchmen, nearly twice as many as we ourselves lost outright in battle during our Boer war, lasting over 2½ years—and yet we talk complacently of our "modern arms of precision!" A monument at Agincourt marks the cemetery of the slain. Few battlefields have changed their appearance so little.
The field may be reached within a railway hour from Boulogne, but few tourists go to the scene of the most wonderful feat of arms achieved by our race.—London Chronicle.

MATERIAL EQUIPMENT.

"You exposed yourself needlessly, Maria," said Mr. Dorkins severely.
"Here you are threatened with a bad cold, and you are in no condition to meet it."

"That's all you know about it, John," wheezed Mrs. Dorkins. "I've got 98 handkerchiefs."

NO WONDER.

"How did he get that black eye?"
"He was singing, 'Any Little Girl That's a Nice Little Girl Is the Right Little Girl for Me.'"

"Did somebody object to the style of his singing?"

"Yes; his wife."
